

Annual Meeting Report

This year's annual meeting was held on November 4, 2018 at the Embassy. Again, members and guests were greeted at the door with a goodie bag containing candy, pocket calendars, wall calendars, and a four-ink color pen. Everyone won at least one of the fabulous raffle prizes. Some even won two prizes. Since there were so many gifts, a second raffle had to be held. Everyone was a winner, just like kids getting a participation trophy. This year's cash prize winner of $50 was David Bell. The two second place winners of $25 were won by Ann Komara and Joyce Ritter.

For the first time since the eighties, an election was held with ballots containing nominations submitted before the meeting. In a very close election, Dominic Donofrio and Patrick Marciano were both selected to fill the two-year unexpired terms of retiring Board members, Jim Flickinger and Tom Voitus. Being unopposed, Marianne Barron won reelected to the Board for another three-year term.

Jim Bellavia reviewed the 3rd quarter financials and Gary Borrelli, CPA, discussed the annual audit results. The meeting was then open to a question & answer session.

The Board at their regular November meeting, selected their officers for the upcoming year as listed below. Also, the Board selected Diane Daly (who narrowly lost in the Board Election) to serve on the Supervisory Committee. Her experience in administration and human resources will be of great value to the Committee. We extend our thanks to the Board and Committee members for volunteering their time and expertise to make DOY a financially strong and growing institution.
